NEW CANADIAN PLAYS

WRITTEN BY STUDENTS IN
ROBERT E. GARD'S
Course in Playwriting and Experimental Production
— and —
The First Production of the Theatre Division of the School of Oral French

The first three plays are experiments in dramatic writing. For the most part they are the results of experiences in the lives of the authors who have chosen to recreate them in play form. They are not finished pieces of work, and ordinarily would not be shown in their present form outside the experimental classroom. You are, therefore, a guest in our playwriting laboratory. We hope the experience will prove enjoyable to you.

Le Cuvier

Farce du Moyen-age, en un acte.

.. Presented by ..

THE THEATRE DIVISION OF THE SCHOOL OF ORAL FRENCH

THE CHARACTERS

JACQUINOT ---------- Doris Berry

JEANNETTE ---------- Barbara Fish

JACQUETTE ---------- Catherine Barclay

The theme of this farce of the Middle Ages is, like that of so many others, the mishaps of married life. Jacquinot is married to Jeannette, who is domineering past endurance. To add to this discomfiture of Jacquinot's otherwise happy-go-lucky life, his mother-in-law, Jacquette, lives with them in the same home.

SCENE: A kitchen.

DIRECTED BY RENE DUSSAULT
